Re: Possible delay of the 71st Conference Final Report print edition

As summer progresses, we are nearing the release date for the 2021 Final Conference report in print. As you may know, it was our plan to have the print version available in mid- to late-August. However, our provider for the print version has indicated that delivery of the print edition could be delayed due to Covid-related protocols.

We thank you for your service and appreciate your patience as we work through this particular challenge.

As scheduled, we are happy to report that the anonymity-protected, digital version of the 2021 Final Conference report is now posted to the Conference dashboard.
